VOLUME CVII.--NO. 280. ALEXANDRIA, VA., WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 21, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

FRENCH CHURCH BURNS SULPHUR

The net results of the inventory operations conducted throughout France yesterday and last night show that a total of over 1,500 inventories were made. In only a few cases were there serious collisions between those who resisted the intrusion of the government commissioners and the troops. The reports show that altogether four gendarmes and several peasants were wounded, and that about one dozen demonstrants were arrested. They were at once tried and sentenced to short terms in jail. In several instances the people are still holding out, and remained in the churches throughout the night.

The work of inventorying has been completed in 63 out of the total of 86 departments. There still remain 2,000 inventories to be taken in the other 23 departments, and in some places stout resistance is anticipated,

Premier Clemenceau said in the Chamber of Deputies last night that the troops had been ordered to exercise patience, but that if they were fired on they would reply.

When the soldiers battered down the doors of the church at Villalongue-de-la Salangue they were driven out by sulphur fumes, and the prefect was compelled to postpone taking the inventory.

In most cases the parish priests and bishops, after protesting, yielded to a show of force, but some of the priests defended their churches until the doors were broken down. In hundreds of cases the priests were taken by surprise, the authorities and soldiers arriving before daylight and completing their work before an alarm could be given.

At Armentieres, department du Nord, after the doors of the church had been broken in, the authorities found the vestry fortified with a breastwork of chairs bound together with barbed wire. The congregation filled the church and sang "The Carmagnole" while the taking of the inventory was proceeding.

When the authorities arrived at the seminary of Alencon, capital of the Department of Orne, they found the Bishop barring the door in person and the soldiers were compelled to eject him.

At St. Ginolph, on the Swiss frontier, troops occupied all the approaches to the church in order to keep back the enraged populace.

Resistance was general throughout the Department of Herault. Violent resistance occurred at Pignan, where the church was filled with the fumes of burning sulphur, which was shoveled into the building from the vestry and the roof, and again and again forced out the soldiers, while a crowd of men and women outside shouted maledictions on the troops and hurled stones and flower-pots at them.

The church was finally cleared by a charge of infantry in order to permit the firemen to flood the church, but it was then discovered that the water mains had been plugged.

At St. Bauzille the church bells were wildly rung, summoning the clericals, who surrounded the church. The force at the disposal of the prefect was not sufficient to attempt taking the inventory.

The church at Couroonsec was barricaded and the parish priest defended the door, but the military engineers cleared the way and the inventory was taken, while hundreds of clericals outside sang hymns.

At Grabels it was also necessary to batter in the church doors, and the taking of the inventory was accompanied by the imprecations of the multitude.

Cloudbursts Thunder and Lightning.

Dispatches from Louisville, Ky., say that the persistent rainfall of the last three days culminated early yesterday in an electrical storm and cloudburst that made the city tremble. Trees struck by lightning, the telephone systems of the city were much disorganized and telegraph facilities in all directions were impaired. Streets in many sections of the city resembled lakes, and it was impossible for pedestrians to move about without wading knee deep in water. Basements were flooded and stocks in several retail establishments were damaged to an aggregate of about $50,000.

The Illinois Central Railroad track was four feet under water and the passenger depot floated from its foundation. The tracks nearest the river, at the foot of Ninth street, were undermined and destroyed. Many families living near the river were driven from their h Police had to rescue some of them.

The electric light plant is subme and there is much damage to teleg and telephone wires. Losses were tained by at least 20 business hou The large Union Labor Hall is floo three feet deep.

A cloudburst at Hopkinsville, Ky following two days heavy rains sent Li tle river out of its banks and flooded large portion of the city. The damag is estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000. Many stores on Main street had from one to three feet of water in them and a three-story brick building collapsed.

Dispatches from Memphis say that conditions in Tennessee are still serious by reason of torrential rains.

Backache, "The Blues"

Both Symptoms of Organic Derangement in Women—Thousands of Sufferers Find Relief.

How often do we hear women say: "It seems as though my back would break," or "Don't speak to me, I am all out of sorts"? These significant remarks prove that the system requires attention.

Backache and "the blues" are direct symptoms of an inward trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. It may be caused by diseased kidneys or some derangement of the organs. Nature requires assistance and at once, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound instantly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women. It has been the standby of intelligent American women for twenty years, and the best judges agree that it is the most universally successful remedy for woman's ills known to medicine.

Read the convincing testimonials of Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. Cotrely.

Mrs. J. C. Holmes, of Larimore, North Dakota, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I have suffered everything with backache and female trouble—I let the trouble run on until my system was in such a condition that I was unable to be about, and then it was I commenced to use Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If I had only known how much suffering I would have saved I should have taken it months sooner—for a few weeks' treatment made me well and strong. My backaches and headaches are all gone and I suffer no pain at my monthly periods, whereas before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I suffered intense pain."

Mrs. Emma Cotrely, 109 East 19th Street, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I feel it my duty to tell all suffering women of the relief I have found in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. When I commenced taking the Compound I suffered everything with backaches, headaches, and female troubles. I am completely cured and enjoy the best of health, and I owe it all to you."

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful periods, weakness, displacements or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the female organs, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. No other medicine in the world has received this widespread and unqualified endorsement. Refuse to buy any substitute.

FREE ADVICE TO WOMEN.

Remember, every woman is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about her symptoms she does not understand. Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, her assistant before her decease, and for twenty-five years since her advice has been freely and cheerfully given to every ailing woman who asks for it. Her advice and medicine have restored to health innumerable women. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

More Trouble Over Morocco.

As a consequence of the receipt by the Spanish Cabinet of dispatches setting forth that the situation of Europeans in Morocco is growing worse, Minister of Marine Alvarado decided, after consultation with the Premier and his colleagues, to order the battleship Pelayo to the Moroccan coast.

The Pelayo sailed last night for Tangier, where she will join the French warships. She will take 500 marines. It is reported in Madrid, though the rumor lacks confirmation, that the British squadron now on the coast of Spain has also been ordered to Morocco.

In official circles in Madrid the opinion is held that the Moroccan situation is immediately perilous. The present precautions are intended to forestall the serious developments rendered possible by the giving of increased powers to the Bandit Raisuli.

The attitude of all the powers concerned is declared to be perfectly harmonious, and the first act of hostility on the part of the Moors will be the signal for the disembarkation of landing parties from all the foreign warships.

Postmaster Robbed.

G. W. Fouts, Postmaster at Riverton, Ia., nearly lost his life and was robbed of all comfort, according to his letter, which says: "For 20 years I had chronic liver complaint, which led to such a severe case of jaundice that even my finger nails turned yellow; when my doctor prescribed Electric Bitters; which cured me and have kept me well for eleven years." Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store. 50 cents.

THE DINING-ROOM

is used oftener than almost any other room in the house. That is why it should be made the most comfortable spot, and be pleasingly arranged.

Without cut glass and silverware a dining room makes little impression and is hardly home like. A few pieces tastily arranged will make a better effect than many of them placed indiscriminately.

A silver fern dish puts a finish to the table and livens up the room. A silver set is needed to decorate the sideboard. A few cut glass pieces so arranged as to contrast with the tea set will make the sideboard as it should be. The cut glass required are decanters, berry bowls and fruit dishes. The only other silver piece that should be in evidence is the candelabra.

If you want your dining room to be just so have the bread trays and other trays of silver. Even the crumb tray and scraper should be silver-plated.

The steel knives should have silver-plated handles to match the silver-plated spoons, knives and forks.

If you are not satisfied unless your dining-room is properly fitted, you are undoubtedly particular about your own person. It is just as well that you are. A little attention to your ownself begets attention from others. Wear a diamond ring or two, a locket, watch and chain. As the chain is more in evidence than the watch or the locket, you may as well wear the best there is—the guaranteed Z-K Gold Chain.

Let us fit out the dining-room as well as yourself. Prices very reasonable.

Alexandria Gazette AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

WEDNESDAY EVENING, NOV. 21, 1906.

THE RECENT discussion in the Episcopal Diocesan Convention in New York concerning the conversion of Jews has brought forth replies from certain prominent Israelites. The latter have been guarded in their words and, so far as we have seen, have said nothing derogatory of the faith of their christian fellow-citizens. Their language, in fact, has been on Christian lines. But the writers call attention to certain conditions among evangelical sects which are hard to explain. Rev. H. Pereira Mendes, President of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of the United States and Canada, in a communication to the New York Tribune says:

Let me timidly ask. To which sect should we be converted— Catholic, Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist, High Church, or low Church, Unitarian, Christian Science, Congregational, Dutch Reformed? Perhaps it would be well for us to wait until these sects agree which shall have the honor of receiving us. Otherwise, by our going over to one, every one of the others may continue conversion efforts to get us into its own special fold, and this will be awkward.

JUSTICE CRUTCHFIELD, of Richmond, says he is going to scour that city clean of every scrap of humanity that looks like a vagrant. He says he has been ordered to enforce the vagrant law to the limit, and is going to do it. Everything unkempt, smelly, tired-looking or drunken individual that faced the desk yesterday was given the maximum penalty provided by the law. It is merely a matter of time when every city will be forced to adopt Justice Crutchfield's plan. There is always a standing army of vagrants, no good to themselves or to any one else, leeches upon communities, eating the bread of idleness and liable to become public charges. Such should be given sufficient time to procure honest employment, and should they fail to do so, the authorities should provide work for them.

JUDGE JOHN W. WOODS, who on Monday afternoon refused a new trial in the case of John Hardy, convicted of murdering Policeman Beard in Roanoke a month ago, while the officers were raiding the old Allegheny Institute building, yesterday sentenced him to be hanged January 4. Hardy says he is ready to die, and that angels have visited him in his cell and that he has been forgiven. It has been the belief of criminals for a long time that the gallows is the direct road to glory. Now, it is alleged, angels visit murderers before they are launched into eternity. If this be so, ministers can utilize their time more profitably in other fields than felons' cells, as, according to the above, their labors are works of supererogation.

FROM a schedule of prices produced by General Manager Ackert, of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, in the Missouri oil trust case, Attorney General Hadley showed how for twenty years the price of oil has steadily increased instead of decreased, as had been alleged by the defendant. The schedule also showed that the price to retailers is fixed not by cost, but by competition, and that the company had given rebates when in danger of losing custom.

THE OFFICIALS of the District of Columbia are having difficulty in securing colored girls for the work at the Industrial Home School. The girls have been receiving $12 a month. The above statement needs but little comment. It is but another corroboration of what has often been stated in the Gazette that young and responsible colored women are always in demand at remunerative wages.

COUNT BONI DE CASTELLANE has received an offer of $4,000 a week to give exhibitions in swordmanship in New York; one of $10,000 a year as maitre d'hotel of a fashionable New York cafe, another at $5,000 a year by a Chicago baseball club as "wardrobe master." To what base usage may we come at last!

Washington, Nov. 21.

Doctor Harvey Wiley, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry refuses to discuss the death of Robert Vance Freeman, who was a member of the Department of Agriculture's first "poison squad, except to say that nothing was put in the foods used in the tests that would produce tuberculosis. Freeman, who died Tuesday, was a member of the squad on which the boric acid tests was made in 1902. His mother attributes the deceased which killed him to this fact. She has complained to the Department of Agriculture but no investigation has been made.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson believes in Sunday as a day of rest and for that reason desires to bring about an agreement with all meat packers to close their places on Sunday in order that the 2,000 inspectors now at work need not work. The Secretary says the report that he has threatened to withhold federal inspection on Sundays unless State closing laws are observed is erroneous. The law gives the Secretary no such authority.

President Roosevelt expects to arrive here Monday evening or early Tuesday morning. A cablegram received at the White House this afternoon announced that the President and party will remain at San Juan tonight. The Case of Prof. Hau.

London, Nov. 21.—A further hearing of the extradition proceedings in the case of Professor Hau, alias Stau, of Washington to Germany, where it is charged that he murdered his mother-in-law, was postponed today in the Bow street police court until certain required papers can be forwarded from Germany. Hau was brought up in court and remanded again. Hau's counsel has not fully determined whether to fight extradition or allow his client to be taken back to Germany without protest. Advices from Vienna in the Hau case, say the police there believed he arrived in Vienna from Constantinople on Oct. 17. They assert he cashed a check for $2,000 on that date, although Hau denies this. Later a telegram arrived from London saying the check had been stolen from Hau. The discription of the man cashing the check tallies with that of Hau.

The Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 21.—Centering about the keen contest between the stables of Reginald and A. G. Vanderbilt intense interest is being taken in the competition at the horse show at Madison Square Garden, and for the first time society has been forced to step back and admit the supremacy of King Horse.

Never before in the history of the New York horse show, has such active interest in the ring been displayed from the boxes.

The favorites are cheered and dainty hands usually so carefully considered are reddened from enthusiastic demonstrations of applause. The best horses of America are entered in the ring and the crowd is quick to admire the choice. There are more magnificent gowns than ever before and jewelry is much in evidence. The Smart Set is doing its best and the "creations" have not entirely failed to attract attention. But while the show in the boxes is up to the standard, by a consensus of opinion, it has been awarded only the red ribbon and honorable mention.

According to Coroner Shrady a third man was in the auto with Cooper's party. He deserted his companions. The man, the coroner said, is wealthy and married. He will be forced to appear at the inquest. Latest developments show that Cooper was racing with another motor car when the accident occurred. Cooper had passed his rival when he ran into the Strong machine. The other motor did not stop and its occupants are unknown.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Nov. 21.—The market through the first hour was unsettled and irregular, with many cross movements, some stocks being moved up to the highest figures recently reached, while others have sustained marked declines. The money situation was about the only thing talked of on the floor of the exchange. As the rate moved up room traders became aggressively bearish. At the end of the first hour there was moderate improvement all through the list and the stocks that had been weak rallied ½ from the low level. The improvement increased toward noon, with advances in many stocks in the face of improved selling.

Plea for Protectorate.

A sensational paper has been issued by a Cuban party working for the American protectorate. It asserts that President McKinley never intended to turn the country over so soon to an unprepared people, and that President Roosevelt, influenced by idealistic impulses, did not carry out his predecessor's real and more practical intention of holding on to Cuba until it was ready for self-government. To this is ascribed the sudden failure of the first republic, and the responsibility if another is started in the same hasty manner.

It is declared it would be an irretrievable injustice for the United States to lay upon the people of Cuba all the responsibility which it has assumed before the other nations for the maintenance of peace and order on the island, and the Cuban people would be suicides if they do not try to prevent in time an evil that may be done them by the United States in its magnificent but misguided policy of disinterested friendship, whereby it would shirk its plain duty and place its own burden on the shoulders that are ready for half, but which it knows are too weak to bear the whole.

MRS. DAVIS CRITICISES MISSISSIPPI.

Daughters of the Confederacy returning to Richmond from the meeting at Gulfport, Miss., speak with concern regarding the so-called "post-mortem" letter of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, which was read at the meeting and then suppressed.

Six years ago Mrs. Davis wrote to Judge A. M. C. Kimbrough, of Mississippi, a letter whose contents, according to express stipulations, were not to be divulged until after the writer's death.

In this communication Mrs. Davis sought to vindicate herself for the criticism of not having buried the remains of President Davis in Mississippi, and among other things she also attempted an explanation of the motives which prompted her to live in the North.

Somehow or other the existence of the communication does not appear to have been known outside the family of Judge Kimbrough prior to Mrs. Davis's death, but last Friday it burst upon the Daughters of the Confederate like a bomb.

Nobody seems to have been prepared for it, and after the strange epistle had been read the "Daughters" appeared at a loss to know what to do. It was in this critical situation that a Richmond lady—Mrs. N. V. Randolph—met the exigencies of the case by moving that the communication be kept off the minutes of the organization.

Without a word of debate, the suggestion was followed, and thus, in five minutes' time, the day was saved and tremendous tension was abated.

It goes without saying that the communication was decidedly—yea, painfully—unpleasant and especially so did it sound to Mississippi ears, indeed, the letter shocked all those who heard it, and it is not saying too much to describe the Daughters as being stunned for a few seconds.

As soon as Mrs. Randolph had saved the day by her "savior faire," an effort was made to forget the incident and apparently this effort has been rewarded with success, for the full text of the communication has not yet been published. Although the representatives of several New Orleans papers were in attendance on the meetings, they touched but lightly upon the sensation, and others who heard the reading of the letter are most reticent about it.

This much is known, however: Although Mrs. Davis was particularly severe in her comments on the attitude of the Mississippi people towards herself and her husband, and although she was sparing in her pleasant references to other southern states, she praised Virginia in fervid rhetoric and was particularly tender in her references to Richmond.

She had much to say, too, by way of explaining her continued residence in the North, but if the truth must be known, the explanation was not at all convincing to the Daughters.

Boycott High Priced Turkeys.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 21.—Farmers in the turkey trust, and who have boosted the price of the Thanksgiving bird up to 27 cents a pound, have collided with a pretty substantial sort of a boycott. Discharge of Colored Troops.

Washington, D. C., November 21.—Secretary Taft this morning announced that he had ordered the immediate execution of the presidential order dismissing the negro troops. This action was taken, he said, as soon as he returned to Washington and learned that President Roosevelt declared he would not reconsider the case and the discharge is going on today.

Secretary Taft this morning made the following announcement explaining his determination to carry out the order dismissing the colored soldiers of the 25th infantry:

"In the matter of the order discharging the enlisted men of three companies of the 25th Infantry issued by the President, application was presented to the Secretary of War by a member of standing asking for a re-hearing by the President of the grounds on which the action was taken. The Secretary telegraphed the President of the application and delayed the proceedings of the discharge until the President could indicate his wishes. The Secretary was in the meantime called out of town. No answer was received from the President. The Secretary on his return did not feel justified in further delaying the execution of the order of discharge especially in view of the fact that the Secretary then learned that the President had fully and exhaustively considered the arguments against the order of the persons who now apply for a re-hearing. Accordingly the Secretary directed yesterday, Tuesday, that the proceedings for discharge be continued without delay."

A telegram was received from the President at 11 o'clock today, after the previous statement was given out at the War Department, in which he declines to suspend the discharge unless there are new facts of such importance as to warrant cabling him. He states that the action was taken after due deliberation and that the only matter to which he can pay heed to is the presentation of facts showing the official report to be in whole or in part untrue, or clearly exculpative of some individual. If any such facts later appear he can act as he deems advisable, but thus far nothing has been introduced to warrant the suspension of the order, and he directs that it be executed.

There has not been any controversy or misunderstanding between the President and Secretary Taft at any time about this matter. There was delay in the arrival of the paymaster at Fort Reno to pay off the men before their discharge and in the meantime a great many protests were addressed to the War Department against the general discharge of the men. Secretary Taft and the President were both out of the city but as soon as the Secretary returned he endeavored to lay the protests and objections before the President for the purpose of giving him the opportunity, if he so desired, to reconsider the case in the light of the complaints.

Several of the members of the three disgraced companies were away on furlough at the time of the Brownsville affair while four or five others were in prison awaiting trial by court-martial. As it was obvious that these men could have had no knowledge of the facts connected with the shooting they are not included in the order of dismissal.

Secretary Taft said this morning that if any members of the three companies can hereafter bring forward proof to the effect that they were not involved in the Brownsville shooting and had no knowledge of the facts connected with it they can be reenlisted upon application to the President.

The reports of Major Blocksom, Lieut Col Lovering, and Brig. Gen. Garlington, who made investigations of the riots at Brownsville on Aug. 13 were made public at the War Department today.

The report states that the causes for the riots were that the soldiers of the 25th Infantry had heard that the Texas militia had threatened to use ball cartridges against them in the army maneuvers; that the people of Brownsville did not desire the colored troops; that the soldiers of the 25th Infantry were not allowed to drink with white people at the principal bars in town, and because of numerous insults offered to white ladies on the streets of Brownsville which were resented in a drastic manner by the white men of that city. Prior to August 13th racial feeling in Brownsville had been aroused to the highest pitch. Maj. Blocksom said that from the evidence obtainable the first shots were fired by the soldiers of Company B for the purpose of creating an alarm. The soldiers, nine to fifteen, possibly more, then jumped the wall of the barracks and started through the town. He declares there is absolutely no evidence to support the claim that the first shots came from the town and no bullet marks were found on the barracks.

The raiders first struck the house of a Mr. Cowan. There were two women and five children in it. "It is a miracle that some of them were not shot," Major Blockcom says. "The raiders could not help knowing they had not yet gone to bed. About ten shots were fired, nearly all going through the house. One shot put out the lamp sitting on the table."

Maj. Blocksom continues his report by telling of how the negro soldiers continued their raid through the town, firing into the houses of the citizens, killing the lieutenant of police, who was shot through the body several times, and firing into the Miller Hotel at the guests. None of the individual raiders were recognized. That they were soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, he says, cannot be doubted.

Every effort was made by the officers of the companies to find the criminals but they were not able to discover a single clue to what Maj. Blocksom declares "such a terrible preconcerted crime committed by so many men. I believe that the battalion had an excellent reputation up to the 13th of August but the stain now upon it is the worst I have ever seen in the army. Many of its old soldiers who had nothing to do with the raid must know something tangible as to the identity of the criminals. If they do not disclose their knowledge they should be made to suffer with others more guilty as far as the law will permit."

The final recommendation made by Maj. Blackson follows: "If satisfactory evidence concerning the identity of the criminals does not come from members of the battalion before a certain date, to be fixed by the War Department, I recommend that all enlisted men of the three companies present on the night of August 13th be discharged the service and debarred from re-enlistment in the army, navy, or marine corps."

Shortly after Major Blockson made this report Lieut. Col. Lovering was sent to Fort Reno, Oklahoma, to which place the three companies of the 25th Infantry had been transferred, and took testimony for the purpose of endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the men who actually engaged in the riot. He could not get one soldier to admit that he knew anything of the riot of that evening or even that he had ever had any trouble with civilians in Brownsville. Not one would state that the slightest feeling existed between themselves and the Brownsville people.

Under date of October 4th by direction of President Roosevelt the acting Secretary of War ordered Brig. Gen. Garlington to Fort Reno and Fort Sam Houston to endeavor to secure information leading to the apprehension of the men who participated in the Brownsville riot. Gen. Garlington made every effort to obtain an admission from some of the men that they had knowledge of the riot but without avail.

It was clearly indicated that a general understanding existed among the enlisted men as to their position when questioned relative to the riot and they uniformly declined to admit they knew anything about the matter. In conclusion Gen. Garlington approved the recommendation of Maj. Blockson for the discharge without honor of all of these men.

He says in part: "A forceful lesson should be given to the army at large and especially non-commissioned officers, that their duty does not cease upon drill grounds, but that they must notify their officers at once of any discontent or mutinous intentions. Moreover, the people of the United States, wherever they live, must feel assured that the men wearing the uniform of the army are their protectors and not midnight assassins or riotous disturbers of the peace of the community in which they may be stationed."

Gillette's Alleged Crime.

Herkimer, N. Y., Nov. 21.—"Chester E. Gillette murdered Grace Brown by beating her to death, and when he tumbled her bruised and bleeding body into the waters of Moose Lake, he concealed the revolting evidence of a double crime."

That is the contention of the State's attorney, who seeks today by medical testimony to prove that Grace Brown and her unborn child were dead before being thrown into the water.

The State, it was learned today, will endeavor to show that an assault of almost unbelievable brutality was made upon the frail little girl in the boat by Chester Gillette.

The girl's body was covered with bruises which she received in her death struggle with Gillete who, the prosecution alleges, struck her down with a horn-handled umbrella, and then rained a shower of heavy blows upon the quivering body with a tennis racket. Grace Brown was dead and Gillette, remembering the unborn child, drove his boot heel in the girl's body in the frenzy of his rage.

The result of the autopsy shows this revolting attack was made, the State declares. The day after the crime a witness, will testify today, Gillette was seen carrying a tennis racket in the woods. The tennis racket was found later buried near a clump of trees.

Chester Gillette is slowly breaking down. His nerve and confidence left him yesterday, when the pathetic letters of his alleged victim were read to the jury. He spent a restless night in the Herkimer jail, and his pallid prison color contrasted sharply with the heavy black lines in his face. He spoke nervously to his counsel, and his uncle, N. H. Gillette, leaned over his shoulders and told him to keep up his courage.

Chester E. Gillette was brought to the court house today from the jail guarded by a score of heavily armed deputy sheriffs. Reports were current during the night that an attempt might be made to lynch Gillette.

Since the reading of Grace Brown's plaintive letters to Gillette to save her from dishonor the feeling against the prisoner is bitter.

Grace Greenwood, a waitress at the Altaclift cottage at the upper lake, where Gillette stopped with Grace Brown on July 10, the night before the girl was drowned, testified that the girl was in a hysterical condition while at supper. Gillette roughly advised her to eat something, but she replied she could not. The next morning at breakfast, Miss Greenwood said, the girl was much depressed.

"Gillette left the table," said Miss Greenwood, "and Miss Brown came over to me and throwing her arms around my neck, began to cry. She did not tell me what her trouble was, and when Miss Brown saw Gillette enter the room again she turned and went out on the porch."

Miss Greenwood said that Gillette and Miss Brown left later for Big Moose Lake, where the tragedy occurred that evening.

Europe to Fight Standard Oil Co.

Rome, Nov. 21.—The action against the Standard Oil Company is to be fought vigorously in Europe, and the Italian government has given final impetus to the movement by deciding to join the European confederation forming to combat the oil trust. The government intends to abolish the duty on crude petroleum now existing, which has enabled the Rockefeller trust to control the Italian market. This will allow the Rothschild, Nobel, Mendelsohn combination, which is planning to exploit Russian oil, to oust the American concern and capture the trade. An agent of the Standard who has been working near Baku, has failed utterly in an attempt to buy oil claims.

When Markle announced he would protect Mrs. Unger if she became his wife the woman asked: "With your last drop of blood?" "Even to my remaining tooth," he replied. They married and started housekeeping, separating in a few hours. Markle said yesterday that his wife drove him from home. He sought refuge among relatives. Markle was a civil war soldier, and for six months was a prisoner of the Confederates at Salisbury, N. C.

Charged with Murdering Infants.

New York, Nov. 21.—Through the arrest of Mrs. Wilhelmia a Eckhart the police claim, has brought to light one of the most revolting tales of infant murder in the history of the city. The woman is charged with having killed at least a dozen "unwanted" new born babes and burned their bodies in her kitchen stove. She is held in the Tombs without bail, and the police today began digging in the cellar of her home in east Ninety-third street, in an effort to find the remains of some of her alleged victims. Mrs. Eckhart's arrest was instigated by her two daughters, Mrs. Wilhelmina Ihrig, of this city, and Mrs. Marie Schoch, whose home is in Massachusetts. They say she tried to induce them to join in her nefarious work. They refused and when she declined to give up the work, appealed to to the county medical society. Attorney John S. Cooper, of the medical society, made a sworn charge to the District Attorney against Mrs. Eckhart, accusing her of murdering from twelve to twenty infants in the last four months.

Epidemic of Poisoning.

Buda-Pesth, Nov. 21.—An epidemic of poisoning has been brought to light in the little village of Knez, and all Hungary is aroused by the disclosures. An investigation has shown that probably a score of ill-mated husbands and wives were murdered by their dissatisfied life partners. Anonymous information furnished the authorities led to the exhumation of twenty-five bodies and arsenic was found in thirteen of the corpses. A woman named Petroceny started the epidemic by poisoning her husband. Four women have been arrested charged with murdering their husbands and nine men are accused of killing their wives.

Married in Soaked Garments.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 21.—Standing with garments drenched after a battle with a swollen stream in a two-horse wagon, Ben Benscoler, and Dora Fox, aged 21 and 18, were married yesterday evening. The couple started from their home near Creal Spring, Ill., in the wagon. The rain had swollen creeks over the banks and a bridge over which the couple expected to cross was washed away. The team plunged into the rushing stream, the girl clinging to the bed of the wagon, and Benscoler flung himself at the horses. By desperate efforts he managed to guide them down stream until a bend threw them ashore

Americans Condemned.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—America is a land of barbarians who do not appreciate art and cannot comprehend high-souled artists, and the American police are worse than those of Russia. This is the verdict of Germany's artists today passed upon New Yorkers because of the arrest of Signor Enrico Caruso for his alleged annoyance of a woman in the Central Park monkey house. A meeting of literateurs, painters, musicians, and philosophers, representing the elite of Germany's intellectual population, was held today to act upon the Caruso arrest.

To Return to the United States.

New York, Nov. 21.—Anna Gould, the former Countess de Castellane, will return to the United States within a few months. The statement was made by Frank Gould, as he stood on the pier yesterday evening just before sailing for Europe. Speaking of the trip he and his wife are making, he said: "We will go to Paris and visit my sister and bring her back to America with us, but we do not know that the French courts will allow her to take the children. This will be her first trip to her native land since her marriage."

The train is number 41, limited, and was due in Colorado Springs from Chicago at 9:40 Monday night. The number of passengers on board approximates 200.

The Thaw Trial.

New York, Nov. 21.—Harry Thaw may not go on trial for the murder of Stanford White on December 3, as planned. In resisting an application by the State to set that date for the trial, Clifford W. Hartridge, of Thaw's counsel, intimated today that the defense will not be ready then, as desired depositions from non-residents cannot be secured in that time.

Lives Lost by Floods.

Barbourville, Ky., Nov. 21.—Several lives have been lost and a property loss of over a quarter of a million dollars sustained as a result of the most disastrous flood in years in the upper Cumberland river. Within eight hours an eighteen foot rise was recorded. It is reported that three men were drowned at a big log boom at Waslots.

Killed by Collapse of Building.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Three persons were killed and eighteen or more seriously injured this morning by the collapse of a building in course of erection at Kodak Park. Some of the injured may die.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Another Strike Imminent.

A sympathetic strike of all the building trades unions in Washington to help the plumbers' union in its fight with the master plumbers' association is said to be imminent. Unless the Masters Builders' Association consents to meet the voluntary committee of the building trades' unions in conference on Friday night, it is strongly intimated by some of the members of the committee that a general strike tying up all the building operations in the city, will be inaugurated on Monday.

The trades union committee met last night at the Corcoran Building, the thirty-two members of the committee being present. It was not until 10 o'clock that any decision was reached, and that decision to ask for a conference with the master builders, did not meet with the approval of a large minority of those present.

After the meeting had been called to order, it was soon evident that a number of those present were not in favor of delaying action in the matter, but wanted all union men employed on buildings in Washington to walk out at once.

The more conservative representatives of the building trades pleaded that drastic action be deferred until a conference be held and they finally were successful.

A number of Alexandrians who work in Washington will be affected should the strike be ordered.

Disappearance of the Fog.

The sun reappeared about nine o'clock this morning, and an hour later the fog which had prevailed for several days past was dissipated. The temperature was uncomfortably warm, more like that of May than the latter part of November. As the fog banks were vanishing, the exhalations from the wharves on the river front resembled smoke and were suggested of smoldering fires.

Considerable inconvenience has been caused to steamboats and sailing vessels, many of the latter class having been tied up by reason of the fog.

The Baltimore steamer Anne Arundel, which was scheduled to leave this port at 4:30 yesterday evening, remained at her wharf until midnight, when she proceeded down the river. When near the White House she ran aground. Early this morning the steamer Wakefield, due here yesterday evening, appeared opposite the White House and made unsuccessful attempts to pull the Anne Arundell into deep water. The latter was still aground at last accounts.

The steamer Washington, from Norfolk, due here at 6:30 o'clock this morning, did not arrive until 10:30.

The tugboat Gummel, of Washington, engaged in towing sand scows, is said to be aground down the river.

Suspected of Murder.

A dispatch from Altoona, Pa., says that Morris Ramsey, 19 years old, was kidnapped by a negro last Sunday and marched eighteen miles into the mountains at the point of a revolver. When darkness came he escaped and reached home Monday in a state of collapse. Ramsey was kidnapped at Eldorado. He was walking in the woods when he was suddenly confronted by the negro, who pointed a revolver at him. "Make any outcry and I will kill you," said his captor. Then they took up their march, which ended at Pecks Station. While the negro was after wood to make a fire, Ramsey fled. The dispatch says that the Altoona police believe the kidnapper to be a murderer wanted at Alexandria and who is believed to be in that locality.

Educational Meeting.

A public meeting in the interest of public schools will be held in the Opera House tonight at 8 o'clock. The teachers, school trustees, the Mayor, members of the City Council, the city officials and the citizens generally have been invited to attend. Addresses will be made by Dr. Bruce B. Payne and Messrs. Charles G. Maphis, L. H. Machen, Jas. R. Caton and other well known educators. Music will be rendered under the direction of Mr. Geo. B. Kennedy. Superintendent Clements and many of the teachers from Alexandria county will attend the meeting. Superintendent K. Kemper will preside.

Dance Tomorrow Night.

The Autumn Dance tomorrow night at McBurney's Hall to be given by the Thursday Night Assembly promises to be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season, the committee having spared no pains or expense to make it such. Mr. Leon Cohen's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion. This orchestra is composed of some of the finest musicians of Washington. Those attending are assured a pleasant evening. The committee of arrangements are Messrs. Jerome Kaufmann, Harry Dackslager and Henry Steiner.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Peter Kitts, colored, arrested by Officer Henderson charged with fighting, forfeited his collateral by failing to appear. Edward Elzey, also colored, arrested by the same officer on a similar charge, was dismissed.

James Harrington, arrested by Officers Garvey and Lyles charged with larceny, had his case postponed.

Bennings.

There was a notable increase in the crowd at the Benning track yesterday. Two big fields faced the starters in the first two events, Red Knight capturing the first at 8 to 1 and Dee Harrison II. taking the second at 40 to 1. Favorites captured the fourth and six races. Continuing rains have kept the track muddy. Balmy weather yesterday was probably responsible for the increased attendance and today a big crowd was present.

Euchre Party.

The euchre party given by the Council of Jewish Women at the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall last night was well attended and enjoyable. A number of prizes were awarded.

Personal.

The marriage of Miss Janet Fawcett and Mr. Lewis Cheesman will take place in St. Paul's Church at half past eight o'clock this evening. Rev. P. P. Phillips, assisted by Rev. Douglass Hooff, of Baltimore, an uncle of the bride, will perform the ceremony.

Miss Rose Emma Appich, daughter of Mrs. Anna M. Appich, and Mr. William MacArthur Green will be married tonight at 8 o'clock at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Rev. J. J. May, pastor, will officiate. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride-elect, No. 713 King street.

The Atlanta Journal of Sunday contaiines a two-column picture of Miss Mary Lindsey, of Alexandria, who was the guest of Miss Bessie Ray in that city. The Journal says Miss Lindsey is one of the prettiest of the early winter visitors and has been the guest of honor at a number of delightful social affairs.

Miss Mary Leadbeater is visiting Miss Gill in Petersburg.

Lieutenant J. H. Reid, U. S. N., and Mrs. Reid are visiting their friends in this city. Shortly after Christmas they will go to China, where Lieut. Reid has been ordered for duty.

Miss Mary Curtis Lee is visiting Mrs. P. T. Yeatman, on Washington street.

Mrs. Josephine Jenkins, who has been at the Alexandria Hospital for three weeks, has returned to her home on Wolfe street.

Operation Successful.

Dr. T. Marshall Jones, of this city, was operated on for ex-ophthalmic goitre at Providence Hospital, Washington, today, by Dr. Jas. F. Mitchell of Washington, and Dr. Halsted, of Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. Among the other surgeons present were Lehr and Harry Smith, of Baltimore; Hume and Bristow, of Washington, and Snowden, Maguire and Slaughter, of this city. The operation was eminently successful, and great hopes are entertained of Dr. Jones's recovery.

Negroes in a Fight.

Two negroes, Peter Kitts and Edward Elzey, engaged in a fight near a saloon in the "Petersburg" locality yesterday evening, during which Kitts used a bottle on Elzey's head. Officer Henderson arrested the belligerents. Kitts left collateral for his appearance this morning, but failed to appear when the case was called in the Police Court. Elzey was dismissed.

Death of Leroy Tinsley.

Intelligence was received in this city today of the death in Abingdon last night of Leroy Tinsley, son of Mrs. L. M. Tinsley, formerly of this city. The remains will be interred in Lynchburg tomorrow. Young Tinsley had a number of friends in this city where he once lived who will regret to learn of his death.

The Ferry Service.

The steamer Woodbury was placed on the ferry route between this city and Washington this morning, and has since been making hourly trips between the two cities. The Callahan, which was disabled yesterday by an accident to her steering gear, is at the Prince street dock where she is being repaired.

Collision.

A freight train on the R., F. & P. R. R. collided with a construction train at Freestone early this morning, and several cars were derailed and damaged. A tramp who was riding on the freight train was killed. The track was soon cleared and within a few hours' time trains were running as usual.

About two o'clock this morning a pistol shot was heard at the intersection of King and Pitt streets. Officers investigated the cause when it was shown the weapon had been accidentally discharged by its owner.

A meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners will be held tonight when, it is said, the new rules recently prepared by the commissioners will be submitted and adopted. A second lieutenant of the force will in all probability be appointed.

Mrs. William Milburn died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Meek, at Paeonian Springs, Loudoun county on Saturday, in the ninetieth year of her age. Two daughters and several grandchildren survive her. The remains were taken to Ohio for interment.

A CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned desires to express her thanks to the matron and nurses of the Alexandria Hospital for their kind attention to her sister, Mrs. Josephine Jenkins, during the latter's stay in that institution.

Mrs. BEADIE VIRGINIA LAYCOCK.

A Mountain of Gold

could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke, of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest antiseptic healer of Piles, Wounds, and Sores. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

The Eastern Hospital.

The minority report of the legislative investigating committee handed to the general board of the Eastern State Hospital was made public yesterday.

The minority of the committee, composed of Messrs. Sadler and Ould, reported that they found affairs in wretched order, and recommended that Doctor Foster be deposed as early as possible, as he had shown himself negligent of his duties and incapable as the chief executive. They found him to be too jealous of his rights and on bad terms with nearly every official at that institution. The report also recommends that Col. Lane, commissioner of hospitals, be deposed, as he had failed to find the mistakes in the accounts rendered by his father, a merchant in Williamsburg, against the treasurer of the hospital; that Mr. Cole, a member of the board of directors, be asked to resign as he had shown favoritism in awarding contracts to L. W. Lane, his father-in-law, and that A. L. Brooks, steward of the hospital, be discharged as he had shown himself utterly incapable of performing his duties. The report censured nearly every official of the hospital. No charges of corruption or of cruelty to patients are included in the report.

Conditions in Pittsburg.

Burglars became active in Pittsburg, Pa., and vicinity Monday night, after an abatement of two days. Scores of houses were entered and a number of people were held up on the street. A majority of the highwaymen were negroes. On Saturday night many women reported to the police that their purses had been pulled from their hands while walking on the main down-town streets. Over fifty men were arrested as suspicious characters.

At Washington, Pa., Mac Delaney, a negro, seventeen years of age, was stabbed to death while trying to rob an Italian. The Italian ran away and has not been found. A woman witnessed the hold-up, and says the negro threatened to kill the Italian if he failed to hand over his money.

Alfred Murray, a student at the Washington and Jefferson College, was seriously cut Monday night by a negro burglar, whom he caught ransacking his room. Murray fought desperately with the negro until he was badly cut on the chest and stomach with a razor.

Cars Collide.

In the dense fog that hung over Washington last night there was a collision of trolley cars at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Ninth street northwest, as a result of which several passengers were slightly injured, two motor cars considerably damaged, and traffic on both lines delayed for about half an hour.

At 10:22 o'clock a westbound Capitol Traction car crashed into a southbound car of the Washington Railway and Electric Company. Both cars were crowded. The Ninth street car was thrown from the tracks, diagonally across Pennsylvania avenue. Several passengers in both cars sustained slight cuts and scratches from broken glass.

Mutilated Hands Found.

New York, Nov. 21.—Two pairs of mutilated human hands, found in an ash barrel in Williamsburg today are expected to lead to the discovery of torturing by the Black Hand. One pair of hands were those of a woman and the others are masculine. All four hands had been mutilated and one or more fingers are missing from each.

Fire today destroyed the main section of the dock yards of the Societe des Forges et Chantiers, at Toulon, France. The loss will be several millions. Several warships, building for foreign nations, were saved with extreme difficulty.

Field Marshal Wolseley, the hero of a hundred fights, whom a grateful country rewarded with $275,000 and a peerage, is now in such straits for money that he is compelled to sell his magnificent collection of ancient arms and armor.

The special Christmas number of Everybody's Magazine, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is full of the holiday spirit, as indicated by the character of fiction, essay and verse. There are ten well known writers of fiction represented in this number and five important special articles. The first instalment of Thomas W. Lawson's serial appears "The Terrible Story of the Congo" is told. "Soldiers of the Common Good," "Where the Toys Come From" and "A Christmas Thought," are of unusual interest. A feature of this Christmas number is the reproduction in color of Alphonse Muchs paintings illustrative of the Beatitudes.

The Public In Speculation.

The public as a body never buys anything when it is cheap. There are numerous reasons for this. To begin with, the point of view of the successful speculator and that of the public trader are entirely different. The first named operates on deductions, on carefully erected theories of what conditions will be a year—two years—hence. The unsophisticated trader acts upon whatever of the future is already apparent. It is again a platitude to say that Wall street discounts everything, good or bad, but how many people who mouth this axiom extract its full meaning? They do not realize that this discounting means, not the gauging of the known, but of the wholly unknown. The man who acts today on the probable conditions of the long, unseen future is the man who makes money, in Wall street or in any other enterprises for that matter, and the man whose mind goes farthest ahead makes the most money. "If I could only see the tape a month ahead!" cries the tyro. There are many men who see it a year ahead, not in its flurries and fractions, but in its great and important entirety. —Thomas Gibson in Moody's Magazine.

Dancing.

Gracefulness is of course the highest object of the dance among all peoples, but their conceptions of what constitutes grace differ widely. According to a student of dancing, who has witnessed tens of thousands of dances in all parts of the world, who has penetrated to the interior of Africa and the desolate mountains of western China, there are three dances that, to his way of thinking, are equal in beauty, in grace and in the poetry of motion. These are the dances of the Javanese Mohammedans, especially the "love dance," in which only the younger women participate; the tarantella of Christian Italy and the butterfly dance of Japan. That dancing loses in poetry, in fire, in meaning, as civilization increases is the belief of this student of the art. The modern dances of civilized nations, especially as expounded on the stage, are not only meaningless and lacking in the beauty of the original dance, but actually degenerate and merely physical contortions that, while they may be rhythmic and graceful, are as insipid and as meaningless as the waddle of a duck.—Chicago Tribune.

Withered.
